Dear Harry:

[redacted] asked that I forward to you the attached two memoranda which he prepared dealing with the North Korean-Libyan link. Any comments which you have on them would be appreciated.

Subsequent to his meeting with you last Thursday, [redacted] I met [redacted] on the subject of the recent Soviet military buildup in Syria. Although we have been working on this problem for some time, it has not been on a funded basis. [redacted] has asked us for a short proposal on the topic, and any encouragement you could give him along these lines would be most welcome.

With best personal regards, I remain,
